

February 2010

Above: This Schiebel Camcopter S-100 remote-piloted helicopter was the subject of a recent demonstration to the US Army at Fort Bragg, North Carolina for the use of unmanned air vehicles for psychological warfare operations. Equipped with a loudspeaker and a leaflet drop capability, as well as an electronic camera payload, the helicopter is being promoted in the United States by Boeing under a teaming agreement signed last year.